Jennifer Aniston's Latest Skin Secret

February 3, 2010

We know what you're thinking—Jennifer Aniston's skin always looks good. Trust us, we agree. But we like her most recent obsession so much ourselves that we couldn't help passing it along: Dr.Hauschka Radiant You kits, which launched last month. (Madonna is also a huge fan of the Dr.Hauschka line.) The set—which includes cleanser, toner, body oil, and a mask—are $6.99 a piece, but if you upload a video of you and your friends using the products, they're entirely free. And let's face it: Skin as clear as Ms. Aniston's is basically priceless.
